

FINDING 'LOST' ARCHES FOR THE WORLD ARCH DATABASE

By Tom Van Bebber

As the creator and compiler of the World Arch Database, I do a lot of Internet and other kinds of research to locate natural arches and bridges across the globe. During this research, I came up with a list of arches for which we have no data except questionable coordinates or sketchy directions to the arch's locale. Also, we are missing photos for these arches (see arch table below). For members' convenience, this arch table will be posted on the NABS web site and will be updated regularly.

As an incentive for NABS members to send in information and photos, I will be giving discounts on the World

Arch Database 3.0 CD-ROM. I may also give free discs to extraordinary arch hunters. These discounts and freebies will be given out solely at my discretion. This rewards program is only open to NABS members. To be considered for discounts and freebies, non-members may join NABS at time of data submission. In the future, the NABS board might also decide to provide a reward of some kind.

The member sending in the data and photo will be listed in the World Arch Database as the documenter of that arch. Members should try their best to provide a reasonable quality photo of the arch and its complete data set, which includes the following:

- Country, State and County or district
- Latitude and Longitude in degrees, minutes (to three decimal places), must be using the NAD83/WGS84 data set, OR
- UTM Coordinates sufficient to give the arch a "NABSQNO" reference number, must be using the NAD83/WGS84 data set
- General locale, plus specific location and directions to the arch
- Rock type and formation member
- Measurements of the arch in accordance with

NABS standards, in feet

- Arch Taxonomy in accordance with NABS standards
- Map references
- Month and year data was gathered
- Land ownership: be specific: "Yosemite National Park," "Roosevelt National Forest" and "Private-Archie Bridger, phone 612-343-3435" are good examples. Descriptions such as "private" or "local" will not help
- Bibliographic references, if applicable
- IMPORTANT: each submission should include a short explanation of how he or she measured the arch with a diagram or marked up photos showing methodology. This write-up should also include information as to how accurate the GPS reading is (standing on top of the arch? estimated? plotted on a map?)

• NOTE: All coordinates are WGS 84, except in the U.S. where they are NAD 27

NABS, its board of directors, Stone Canyon Media Corp. and Tom Van Bebber will not be liable for any accidents, faulty navigation or other hazardous conditions which may be encountered while gathering data.

Happy (and safe) arch hunting to all!
